

PUBLIC HEALTH ORDER
PROOF OF COVID-19 VACCINATION OR NEGATIVE TEST

January 13, 2022

(Under Subsection 25.2(2) of The Disease Control Regulations)

WHEREAS:

- A. I, Dr. Saqib Shahab, an official with the Ministry of Health and the Chief Medical Health Officer for the Province of Saskatchewan, have been authorized by the Minister of Health to make this Order under subsection 25.2(2) of The Disease Control Regulations;
- B. The transmission of the infectious agent SARS-CoV-2, which has caused cases and outbreaks of a serious communicable disease known as COVID-19 among the population of the Province of Saskatchewan, is a serious public health threat, as defined in The Public Health Act, 1994;
- C. COVID-19 is a category I communicable disease;
- D. To decrease or eliminate the risk to health presented by COVID-19, it is necessary to (a) reduce the probability for transmission of SARS-CoV-2, and (b) reduce the exposure to SARS-CoV-2;
- E. An individual infected with SARS-CoV-2, including a variant of concern, can infect other people with whom the infected individual is in contact;
- F. Multiple SARS-CoV-2 variants of concern have emerged worldwide and are now present in Canada and Saskatchewan. These variants of concern are more transmissible than the previously dominant variants, and are more likely to cause death or serious illness;
- G. Vaccination against COVID-19 is now widely available across Saskatchewan. Vaccines approved for use in Canada have proven to be safe and highly effective at both reducing the transmission of COVID-19 and reducing negative health outcomes, such as hospitalization and death, in vaccinated persons who do contract COVID-19. However, Saskatchewan has a large population of unvaccinated persons, including those younger than 12 years of age who have just become eligible for vaccination, which is fueling the community spread of COVID-19 and creating opportunities for “breakthrough” infections of vaccinated persons;
- H. This Order is necessary in order to reduce the burden on Saskatchewan's health care system, enable essential services to continue, and to reduce serious illness and overall deaths as a result of the COVID-19 pandemic;
- I. I am aware of and have considered the impact that this Order will have on the people of Saskatchewan;

- J. While issuing this Order, I have determined that the restrictions herein are not disproportionate to the risk that COVID-19 poses to the people of Saskatchewan;
- K. I am aware of and have considered that this Order may impact upon constitutionally-protected interests, particularly the rights and freedoms protected by the Canadian Charter of Rights and Freedoms (“Charter”), including freedom of peaceful assembly, freedom of association, and mobility rights. I also recognize that the rights and freedoms protected by the Charter are not absolute, and are subject to reasonable limits, prescribed by law as can be demonstrably justified in a free and democratic society;
- L. When issuing this Order, I have considered whether alternate measures that are less impactful on the Charter-protected rights and freedoms of the people of Saskatchewan are appropriate and consistent with public health principles, including the precautionary principle. I am aware of the importance of choosing measures that impact the Charter-protected rights and freedoms of the people of Saskatchewan as little as possible. To that end, this Order:
- a. applies only to non-essential businesses;
 - b. applies only to places where people typically gather together, such that the risk of transmission of COVID-19 is highest;
 - c. allows persons who are unable or unwilling to be vaccinated against COVID-19 to be tested for COVID-19 as an alternative to vaccination; and
 - d. does not apply to private gatherings or places of worship for worship services.
- M. I consider the following measures necessary to decrease or eliminate the risk to health presented by COVID-19 and in the public interest, in order to prevent, reduce and control the transmission of SARS-CoV-2, including variants of concern; and
- N. By virtue of the foregoing and under subsection 25.2(2) of The Disease Control Regulations, effective January 13, 2022 at 12:01am, I hereby rescind my Proof of COVID-19 Vaccination or Negative Test Order (dated November 25, 2021) and I ORDER and DIRECT:
