

- Access from the North Service Road to Highway 48 south-bound (and into White City) and access from the North Service Road to Trans-Canada Highway 1 eastbound will be restricted, as indicated in the above diagram. (Targeted to begin the week of Feb. 29, 2016.)
- These two traffic movements will be restricted using a combination of signage and traffic barrels to channel movement.
- To access White City from the North Service Road, motorists may travel westbound on Highway 1 and use Great Plains Industrial Drive.
- To access Balgonie, motorists may travel eastbound on the North Service Road.
- All other traffic movements in this area will remain the same in the short term.
- Motorists can check for traffic updates related to Regina Bypass construction via the Highway Hotline at <http://hotline.gov.sk.ca/map/en.html> and via Regina Bypass's Twitter account at @reginabypass.
